

Undone

by Kevin Butcher, p. 56

Pastor and author Kevin Butcher relates how a traditional Jewish Sabbath blessing turned into a surprise encounter with the holy.

1. Have you ever had an experience like the man visiting Kevin Butcher's worship service? How might you react to having such words spoken over you?
2. Which phrase in the blessing would be the most powerful for you?
3. What does "spiritually raw, naked, and unashamed fellowship" look like to you?
4. Butcher gave a public blessing to the "linebacker" attending services that day. How can you bless those around you in authentic ways?
5. Why might it be "surprising" to encounter such a profound spiritual moment at a morning worship service?
