

MISSION MUSINGS

How I Got Here

by Al Tizon, p. 23

Al Tizon, executive minister of Serve Globally, answers the question of how he got into missions.

1. How did you get into your current vocation?
2. Al Tizon refers to a dramatic moment at the age of seventeen when he was saved by God. How old were you when you became a follower of Christ?
3. Tizon sensed that his new community of Christians was encouraging him to save souls rather than save the environment or eliminate poverty. Have you encountered this ethos in your own faith journey? How do you respond?
4. Part of Tizon's journey into missions included a recognition of social inequalities. When was the first time you became aware of injustice based on privilege or race?
5. How has God energized you to make a difference in the world?
